

Travel to Higher Risk Destinations – CSU Protocol

To protect student health and safety, Colorado State University maintains a list of higher risk destinations based on U.S. Department of State and insurance provider information. The countries listed below are assessed as having high or extreme risk related to health, safety and/or security. Any CSU employee traveling with students in one of these destinations or any CSU student (undergraduate or graduate) traveling to any country listed below must complete a petition process and seek approval from the International Travel Oversight Committee (ITOC) prior to travel.
